	Saturday	Sunday	Reserve Day	Result
Scenario 1	No Play at all	No Play at all	Match cancelled	Draw - team highest as per rules wins
Scenario 2	No Play at all	Full days play	Full days play	Normal result scenario	Fairly straight forward and once play commences (being 20 overs has been bowled normal rules apply as to who wins even if further rained out on the reserve day
Scenario 3	Full days play	No Play at all	Full days play	Normal result scenario
Scenario 4	Min 20 overs bowled but full day not achieved	Team 1 continues batting for their allocated overs (unless all out). Second team do not receive their full overs and are not all out	Used to complete the match (1st innings only)	Normal result scenario	This is the classic scenario where we get interruptions and use the reserve day to complete the match. Remember 20 overs constitutes a match having started. This scenario works on the basis that one day loses overs thus we use the reserve day to complete the match
Scenario 5	Min 20 overs bowled but full day not achieved	Team 1 continues batting for their allocated overs (unless all out). Match interrupted again on day 2 and team 2 does not get their allocated overs.	Used to complete the match (1st innings only)	Normal result scenario
Scenario 6	No Play at all	Min 20 overs bowled but full day not achieved	Used to complete the match (1st innings only)	Normal result scenario
